ROSS MEDICAL EDUCATION CENTER IN FORT WAYNE RAISES $1,000 FOR “MAKING STRIDES AGAINST BREAST CANCER” ON OCT. 9

FORT WAYNE - On Saturday, October 9, Ross Medical Education Center participated in the American Cancer Society’s annual event, “Making Strides Against Breast Cancer” at Headwaters Park East in Fort Wayne. The team raised $1,000.00 for the event.

“As a college that specializes in preparing students for careers in allied health fields, we’re proud of the enthusiasm and dedication our staff and students have shown in supporting health-related initiatives, such as Making Strides,” said Dawn Modlin, Campus Director in Fort Wayne.

According to an October 10 in The Journal News, this year’s Making Strides walk in Fort Wayne was the biggest yet in its 13-year history, raising over $235,000.

In 2009, nearly 700,000 walkers across the country joined the American Cancer Society in their united fight against breast cancer and raised $60 million through Making Strides events. Funds raised for these events held throughout the country go towards patient education and conducting research into breast cancer’s causes and cures.
