

EXPLANATION FOR CONSUMER INFORMATION (GAINFUL EMPLOYMENT) PLACEMENT RATE

The Consumer Information (Gainful Employment) placement rate reported is defined by reporting period and schools under the same OPEID, and is then further defined as the total number of graduates from the designated Program who were placed in field or a related field* divided by the total number of available (for placement) graduates from the designated Program.

The Consumer Information (Gainful Employment) placement rate reported includes the following graduates under the same OPEID:

Graduates who obtained employment by the December deadline for the specific Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools (ABHES) reporting year (July prior year to June reporting year) in a position that requires the direct or indirect use of the skills taught in the designated Program, including graduates who obtained this employment prior to enrolling in the designated Program, while enrolled in the designated Program or after graduating from the designated Program.

*The placement rate reported excludes the following unavailable graduates under the same OPEID:

The specified number of graduates from the designated Program who, as reported to the schools, were unavailable for placement due to one of the following reasons: continuing education; health-related issues, including death, military obligations, and/or incarceration.

As of 12/31/15, Ross Medical Education Centers and Ross College are grouped by the following OPEIDs:
